DISTRICT COURT PROCEEDINGS.

The Case of the State vs. Dan O'Keefe for Resisting an Officer.

The District Court room was crowded yesterday during the trial of Dan O'Keefe, charged with resisting an officer in the discharge of his duty. The defendant was represented by J. L. Wines and Hon. Wm. Woodburn; and the State by District Attorney Currier and Judge Currier.

The first venire of fifty jurors was exhausted and only eleven jurymen secured. At this point Messrs. Wines and Woodburn moved that further proceedings in the case be dismissed upon the grounds that the indictment was defective. This motion was overruled.

Another venire was called and the twelfth jurymen selected, when the trial was begun.

The first witness upon the part of the State was Justice of the Peace Lynn, who testified with reference to the issuance of the warrant for the arrest of Dan O'Keefe, in the serving of which the trouble took place.

The next witness called was Deputy Constable Frank Brundrige. The defendant's attorneys objected to the question asked by the District Attorney as to his official position, claiming that the best evidence was the certificate of appointment, duly filed and recorded, together with his oath of office. The objection was sustained, and while these were being procured the witness stepped down and Constable Dickey was called, who testified with regard to appointing Officers Brundrige and Campbell. Officer Brundrige then resumed the stand and the evidence of his appointment produced. The defendant's attorneys objected, on technical grounds, to the manner in which the appointments had been filed, and also the abbreviation of the officers' names therein, both of which were overruled and exceptions taken.

The witness then testified substantially as follows: On the night of the trouble I was present in the Justice Court-room when District Attorney Currier drew up the complaint charging Dan O'Keefe with resisting an officer. O'Keefe was also present, together with Constable Dickey, Justice Lynn, Officer Campbell and many others. O'Keefe asked Currier what he was doing and the latter told him he would soon find out, and added, "We will see whether you are going to run this town or not." That Justice Lynn made out the warrant for O'Keefe's arrest and handed it to the witness. He took it and went over to where O'Keefe was sitting near the wall, laid his hand on the latter's arm, saying, "I have a warrant for your arrest, Dan; come over here to the light where I can read it to you." O'Keefe struck the warrant out of his hand upon the floor. He picked it up, when the defendant again struck it out of his hand, applying a vile epithet and saying "You can't arrest me." Officers Campbell and Dickey then got the warrant and the witness saw O'Keefe struggling with them and resisting them. They were trying to read it. Witness testified that he then took Monahan, the prize fighter, over to jail and did not see anything further.

In cross examination the witness stated that he did not tell O'Keefe at the time or during that evening that he was a public officer and did not hear either Dickey or Campbell say to him that they were.

The court then took a recess at 4:30 o'clock until 7.

EVENING SESSION.

The court resumed the trial at 7 o'clock. A number of witnesses were called who testified substantially the same as Officer Brundrige concerning the facts. Among these were Officer Campbell, Justice Lynn, C. L. Wright and District Attorney Currier, after which the State rested its case.

The first witness for the defense was W. P. McLaughlin, who testified in rebuttal concerning the fact of going on the bond of Monahan, and whether that night he had been asked by Dan O'Keefe to go on his bond.

John Flynn was the next witness. He testified that he was present during the trouble in the Justice's court-room. That he stood near O'Keefe and saw Brundrige approach him with the warrant. That he did not see O'Keefe reach toward his hip pocket as if to get a gun.

Dan O'Keefe was then placed on the stand. He testified that he had been a resident of Washoe county for nineteen years and for six years had been proprietor of the Grand Central Hotel. That on the evening of the 6th of December he was in the Justice's court-room. That Brundrige approached him with a paper and stated that he had a warrant for his arrest. That Brundrige did not say he was an officer and that he (O'Keefe) did not know he was an officer. That if he had known so he would not have resisted. That he struck the paper out of his hand saying, "I don't want to have anything to do with you." That afterwards he told Dickey, "I am your prisoner if you want me." That he also said the same to District Attorney Currier. That he was not arrested.

The prosecution waived cross-examination and the court took a recess at 8:30 o'clock until 10 a. m. to-day.

THE PARAMOUNT ISSUE.

Instructions From the Bi-Metallic League.

The American Bi-Metallic League has issued the following:

Any person who is in favor of restoring free bi-metallic coinage in the United States, and is willing to cooperate to this end, may become a member of the American Bi-Metallic League by sending to the secretary his name and address. The annual fee of $1 entitles a member to all the publications of the league.

The constitution of the league provides for the formation of local or subordinate leagues throughout the United States; and it is highly important that leagues be organized in every city, town, city and country school district in the United States.

The silver question is admittedly the paramount issue before the country at this time, and it stands so related to everything else that nothing can be settled until this question is settled and settled rightly. The first question for the people to determine, therefore, is whether they will carry on business and pay debts and taxes by the single standard of gold, with the knowledge before them that gold, as a money standard, is constantly increasing in value, or whether they will demand that the constitutional standard of gold and silver shall be restored.

The organization of leagues to accomplish this end is as simple as it is important. All that is necessary to form a local league is for those willing to become members to enroll their names as subscribers to the constitution of the league. Only such local fees as may be required to defray local expenses need be assessed, and if all the members of the local league do not wish to join the parent league, they can authorize as many of their officers or members as they think best to join the parent league with the understanding that for each dollar sent to the parent league a full set of all the publications of the league will, from time to time, be sent to the subscribers for the use of the local league.

While the Bi-Metallic league is itself non-partisan, and is composed of men of all parties, we nevertheless believe the prosperity of our common country and the saving of the homes of the people is of far more importance than the upbuilding or perpetuation of any political party as such, and it is earnestly recommended that the line of action marked out at the recent conference held in Washington, be followed by all the leagues, and especially in the election of members of the fifty-fourth Congress.

Will not the friends of this most important issue now before the people move in the organization of local leagues?

It is not only important to organize leagues, but to hold regular meetings, as often, at any rate, as every two weeks to discuss the question and to read public important papers.

In all cases send the name of the league and the names and addresses of all its members to the Washington office.

JOHN M. DEVINE, General Secretary.
WASHINGTON, D. C.

PRICES OF FARM PRODUCTS.

Official Report Comparing the Average of This Year With Other Years.

The statistical returns of the department of agriculture for the month of December are principally devoted to the indication of the average of the prices of the various products of the farm at the points of production or in the nearest local markets. As thus indicated, the value of corn is 37 cents per bushel, which is 2.4 cents lower than the corresponding price of last year, which was 39.4 cents per bushel, a figure which corresponds nearly with the average farm price of corn for the decade 1880 to 1889, inclusive, which was 39.3, and is 6.1 cents lower than the average for the three years 1890 to 1892.

The average price of wheat is 62.1 cents per bushel. The next lowest price in the 23 years from 1870 to 1892, inclusive, was 64.5 cents in 1884. The average for the 10 years 1880 to 1889 was 62.7 while for the three years 1890 to 1892 it was 76.6. The decline from the average of the last three preceding years, in two of which, 1891 and 1892, occurred the largest yields in the history of the country, was 24.8 cents, or 39 per cent.

The returns make the general price per bushel of rye 51.8 cents, which is 3 cents lower than that of last year and 5.2 cents lower than the average during the past decade.

The average farm price of oats, as returned for December, 1892, is 28.8 cents per bushel, which is 2.9 cents lower than last year and 1.4 cents less than the average price during the past decade.

The average farm price of barley is the lowest on record, the price being reported at 40.6 cents, against 47.2 cents a year ago, 54 cents in 1891, 64.8 cents in 1890 and 42.7 cents in 1889.

Unlike the other cereals, the farm price of buckwheat per bushel is the highest since 1883; the average price of buckwheat per bushel is the highest since 1888.

The average plantation price of cotton, as shown by the department reports, was, on Dec. 1, 6.99 cents per pound, as against 8.4 cents on the same date last year, showing a decline of 1.41 cents. Notwithstanding the unfavorable indications as to yield as reported for the current year, this price is 1.1-10 cents lower than the average plantation price for the seven preceding years, during which the range was from 8.6 cents to 7.3 cents; average, 8.2 cents.

THE FATHER OF THE HOUSE.

Representative O'Neill's Death Transfers the Distinction to Silver Dollar Brand. Distinction as "father of the house," which was enjoyed by the late Representative Charles O'Neill of Philadelphia since the death of his colleague, Judge William D. Kelley, has now descended to the paternal progenitor of the silver dollar known as the "land act," or the "dollar of the father's" bill. In continuous service the Hon. Richard Parks Bland of Missouri is the father of the house, although in age and length of experience in congressional affairs several other members are his seniors.

Mr. Bland is 58 years of age, is now in his eleventh consecutive term, and at the end of his present term, March 3, 1893, he will have served 23 years. In years of service in the house however, "Objection" Holman of Indiana exceeds all others who are now members of the house. Mr. Holman is 71 years of age, entered the house in 1850, and with the exception of three terms (six years) he has been in congress ever since.

Another member of the house entered that body earlier than Mr. Holman, but served only four years, and after an absence of 39 years returned to the house this year. The latter is General Daniel E. Sickles, who first entered the house in 1857.—Washington Post.

Minnie Terry's Protest.

Little Minnie Terry, aged 8, was once taken to see her Aunt Ellen as Juliet. In the scene where Juliet drinks her potion Miss Terry was clad in white robes of a dressing gown or robe de nuit order. At this point little Minnie, who had a decided idea of the proprieties, turned to Mr. Gilbert, who chanced to be in the box "No, no!" she exclaimed, putting her small fingers over his eyes. "You mustn't look!"

She is a very pretty child.

Miss Terry is now well connected with a position in Baltimore where she is a lady of high social position. She is a very pretty child, and is a very good girl. She is a very good girl, and is a very good girl.

BALD HEADS!

What is the condition of yours? Is your hair dry, harsh, brittle? Does it split at the ends? Has it a lifeless appearance? Does it fall out when combed or brushed? Is it full of dandruff? Does your scalp itch? Is it dry or in a heated condition? If these are some of your symptoms be warned in time or you will become bald.

Skookum Root Hair Grower

is what you need. Its production is not an accident, but the result of scientific research. Knowledge of the diseases of the hair and scalp led to the discovery of how to treat them. Skookum contains neither minerals nor dyes. It is a dye, but a thoroughly cooling and refreshing tonic. By stimulating the follicles, it stops falling hair, cures dandruff and grows hair on bald heads.

Keep the scalp clean, healthy, and free from irritating eruptions by the use of Skookum Root Hair Grower. It destroys parasitic insects, which feed on the scalp, and keeps the scalp cool and healthy.

If your druggist cannot supply you send direct to us, and we will forward prepaid, on receipt of price. Grower, $1.00 per bottle; 1/2 for 50c. Soap, 50c. per jar; 1/2 for 25c.

COUPED BY A SHARPER.

Sullivan County Men Will Have to Pay More Than They Bargained For.

Twenty-two of the former residents of Sullivan county were last year interested in a scheme introduced by a traveling "sharper," and now they must settle.

The agent represented that he was organizing an association for the purchase of a Percheron stallion for the agreed price of $3,800. Each member of the association was to take one-twenty-second part of the venture, and pay accordingly.

Three notes were given, each for the sum of $834, the first due on Oct. 19, the second on the same date in 1891, the third in October, 1895. The notes were joint and were signed by the members of the association. A Monticello lawyer has the notes for collection, and the collection of the first one is to be pressed at once.

As some of the signers are not considered solvent, and as the notes are all drawn "We, or either of us," the enterprise promises to be a costly one for some of the members.

The unfortunate men who form the association claim they were grossly deceived by the agent, as the extent of the liability which they supposed they assumed was only $128, but by signing the note each member assumed the entire debt, providing his co-signatures proved to be insolvent. The notes are all in the hands of third parties, and no defense can be entered against their payment.

"If I have to pay all that money," said one of the men today, "my wife will go crazy, and I shall go to the poorhouse. I cannot imagine how I could ever have been such a fool as to enter into such an arrangement anyhow. I always prided myself upon being a match for any of them, but I will never do any more fooling. This is indeed a wonderful age."

One of the victims decided that if ever a traveling agent attempts to sell him anything again he will never live to approach another party.

"Oh, nonsense," exclaimed his wife. "You will be ready to deal with another man tomorrow."—Middletown (N. Y.) Special.

British Hail in Matabeland.

By the surrender of King Lo Bengula and his warriors the British have entered into full possession of Matabeland. The campaign against the blacks has been short and sanguinary. It now remains for the whites to get all they can out of the country which has been wrested from its native inhabitants to develop the "gold reefs" known to exist there, which are believed to be even richer than those of Johannesburg, to establish peace among the tribes and to introduce civilization under an orderly government.—New York Sun

WHAT DO YOU take medicine

for? Because you want to get well, or keep well, of course. Remember centric Tolerate.

Some of the eccentricities of the toilet this season are very curious. An "ox-eyed Juno" on Fifth avenue recently carried out the hove effect of her head, probably unintentionally, by having two little ivory colored horns curved like those of the South American cattle, on her bonnet. One came out on either side of a mass of soft brown velvet which answered very well for the broad frontal of the animal between the horns, and yet the hat was not conspicuous—it was only the coincidence that made it appear funny. Another odd inspiration was a gathered shoulder cape in each fold of which was a long fair tail. It was on a very handsome jacket, and evidently the owner was quite unconscious that she looked as if she had decked herself with trophies of the chase a la Indienne.—New York Tribune.

Keep Their Girls in Cages.

The inhabitants of New Britain, an island in the Pacific ocean, it is said by Wallace, have a peculiar custom of confining their girls in cages until they are old enough to be married. This custom is said to be peculiar to the people of New Britain. The cages are made of the palm tree, and the girls are put into them when 2 or 3 years of age. These cages are built inside of the house, and the girls are never allowed to leave the house under any circumstances. The houses are closely fenced in with a sort of wickerwork made of reeds. Ventilation under the circumstances is rendered difficult. The girls are said to grow up strong and healthy in spite of these disadvantages.

The Flow of Language.

Mrs. Murray Hill—There was a time when you called me a daisy a sweet violet and a lily of the valley.

Mr. Murray Hill—Yes, that was before you began to sing me every night. Now, the only thing I hear you say is a "how do you do?"

The Modern Jack Horner.

"Little Jack Horner sat in a corner, Eating a Christmas pie; He put in his thumb and pulled out a plum, And said 'What a great boy am I!'"

But little Jack Horner became a deep mourner
